Bar Center Closed Thursday and Friday for Thanksgiving

The Mississippi Bar Center will be closed Thursday November 22 and Friday November 23 for Thanksgiving Holidays.

Casemaker Tip #4 - Did you know that you can perform a more inclusive search by using the Suffix Expansion feature?

Because the Casemaker search engine is so precise, Casemaker finds only the exact search terms entered into the Full Document Search Query box. However, users may find all word forms of a single word by attaching an asterisk (*) to the end of the word (no spaces allowed). By doing so, users activate the Suffix Expansion feature. If the term stalk* is typed into the Search box, present tense (stalk), plurals (stalks), past tense (stalked), nouns (stalker), and progressive tense verbs (stalking) can all be found in a single search.

Diversity in the Law Touch Ten in Ten Challenge

As a community outreach goal for this year, the Diversity in the Law Committee is presenting a challenge to the Young Lawyers of Mississippi to recruit at least 100 young lawyers throughout the state to volunteer one hour per month to speak to a group of at least 10 children or adults. There are no age limitations and you can speak to community groups such as the Boys and Girls Clubs, Churches, Schools, YMCA or any place where people can come together and hear you! There are no limitations as to the topics that can be covered at each session. The discussions can range from legal counseling to motivational presentations, the possibilities are endless. All that is required of the young lawyers is to: (1) identify a different group to speak to each month, (2) present a topic or activity for the group, (the bar can provide the "Choose Law" DVD from the ABA as one resource to use) and (3) log the time spent doing the activity on the YLD Volunteer Hours form. The objective is that young lawyers will touch the lives of at least ten thousand individuals by sharing information on essential topics that are plaguing the community and by assisting members of the community in making positive choices for themselves, their families and their future. This challenge begins this month and runs through July. To download a volunteer form, click here. For more information, contact John Williams at jwilliams@msaclu.org; or Psonya Wilson at pwilson@tougalo.edu.
