MARY CLAY W. MORGAN

Mary Clay W. Morgan is a partner in the Jackson office of Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP. She is a member of the litigation and labor and employment practice groups, and also serves on the firm’s associate committee.

Mary Clay has litigated claims involving products liability, financial services, mass torts, business torts, and commercial contract disputes. In her labor and employment practice, Mary Clay defends employers in a variety of employment litigation matters, including claims of discrimination and retaliation, FLSA violations, violations of covenants not to compete, and other matters arising in the workplace. She also drafts handbooks and employment agreements, conducts employee and supervisor training, and advises clients in all areas of labor and employment law.

Mary Clay is a graduate of Millsaps College and the University of Mississippi School of Law. She serves on the Board of Directors of the Mississippi Volunteer Lawyers Project, and she is an elder at Fondren Presbyterian Church. Mary Clay and her husband Matt live in Jackson with their two daughters, Ellie and Margaret.
